CAN-AM 1984 --- A HUGE SUCCESS!

I want to give special thanks to these people for all their effort and time --- Greg Reynolds, Terry Moore, Earl Otto, Doug Remington, Bob Doran, Roger Sawyer, Matt Hargreaves, Scott Taylor and thanks to all of you who participated in the contest.

We had 347 entries. That is over half again as many as our Recon 7, a few years back! Only a few categories weren't represented heavily. The number of actual participants was 85 --- not a bad showing at all. The number of entries per person ranged from 1 to 14 (the largest I know of); that is incredible! I would hope that we could always count on that kind of participation.

We had a good selection of modelers from out of town --- a little more than half a dozen Canadians, IPMS Bellingham, some from IPMS Yakima, and I believe IPMS Salem and Portland were also here in the same strength. IPMS Yakima is a new club, about a dozen members strong. The Portland gang said that they hoped to have as many models at the Recon on May 12, as we did. I hope so, too!

Congratulations to all the winners and thanks to everyone for making the Can-Am 1984, a very successful event.

Also, see elsewhere in this letter for Scott Taylor's financial report on the Can-Am.

1984 IN PLASTIC

The new year is upon us and with it the annual HIA Hobby and Craft Show where the US manufacturers as well as some of the foreign ones announce their new kits for the coming year. This year's show was somewhat smaller than last year's, but there are more new kits than last year (although many are holdovers from 1983). If you are into modern 1:72 aircraft this is going to be a good year for you. World War I and II seem to be getting attention from only the vacuform manufacturers, although it is to be hoped that Fujimi will continue its new series of 72nd Japanese aircraft (with a good "Val" maybe, I hope?). 48th aircraft were scarce and 32nd was represented only by a "Blue Thunder" Gazelle by Monogram. Very little was shown in the way of armor, most of it coming from Italeri, but, as usual, Tamiya rumors abound, though, as usual, they were not saying anything. Cars were surprisingly sparse with Monogram accounting for most of the new tooling and much of that late in the year. Both AMT and MPC have mostly reissues and most of that by about August, so hopefully they will both put out some more kits in the second half of this year that are as yet unannounced, as both did in 1983.

The following list is not in all probability exhaustive as there are some manufacturers who remain unheard from, mostly Japanese. Also I take no responsibility for the release dates shown which are those given by the manufacturer or importer and are, to say the very least, subject to change (i.e. delay). The list is arranged chronologically by type of model, and prices, kit numbers, and scales are listed where known. I hope you find many things on the list to look forward to throughout the year and remember that reservations are gladly accepted and will earn a 10% discount when purchased within 7 days of notification of being received.

Happy Modelling

Tom Weindel

P.S. Thanks to Matt Hargreaves and his friend Willi Wunner for providing information on European manufacturers from the Nuremburg Toy Show.

* These kits are not illustrated or listed in the '84 Revell catalog but were shown in mockup form. They are quite large, the Sandworm diorama being over 30" in length most of which is sandworm.

USS EXCELSIOR

AMT will release a new kit of a new ship type (the name of which I have forgotten) from "Star Trek III - In Search of Spock". Release date was not given but will apparently be around the same time as the movie. I'm sure also that there will be many new Sci Fi kits out of Japan, but what, when and by whom I do not know.
