COMMENTARY

On behalf of club members who made the recent trip north, a big thank-you goes out to Sandra and Dave Newhouse for hosting a very enjoyable BBQ. Especially the "bean pot" (delicately flavoured with "Jack Daniels" I was told), which really added a different taste to the meal. Unfortunately strong, gusty winds curtailed the planned RC flying display by Cam and Jerry, although Cam managed to get in one flight with a combat plane nicknamed "The Foo Fighter". That caused some annoyance to part of the local bird population but all involved survived OK.

The first Sunday Build at the Alice Turner Library has been booked for September 16th. An extra tax has to be paid so the cost for the meeting room has gone up a couple of dollars. If we can average an attendance of eleven members the cost will be covered. The meeting room can only be booked three months ahead, so my plan is to be at the library, cash in hand, on the first day of each month when they accept reservations.

Summer activities are rolling right along and it is good to see club members attending who have not been able to participate previously. As with all of these things it is not the club's intention to run classes. It is more a case of sharing experiences and knowledge, including things that do not work. So the floor (or work table as it were) is open to everyone. Some of the subjects can be pretty narrow with limited applications, then again they could be an eye-opener to something else. Not everyone is expected to "lecture"; just sitting there listening (and learning?) works for a lot of people.

Incidentally the primer with which I have had the most success so far is Home Hardware High Heat Aluminum.

SMAS meets on the first Wednesday of each month at the Parkridge Centre, 110 Gropper Crescent, Saskatoon (off Fairlight Drive), officially starting at 7:00 p.m. Any suitable material received for the newsletter on the Sunday before the meeting, stands a very good chance of being printed for that issue.
